

Reserve Your Consolidated Loan

We at Medical School Loans want to be the first to congratulate you on your upcoming graduation from medical school. In the next few months, all of your hard work and effort will pay off in a big way. You probably have a million things going through your mind right now, and Medical School Loans wants to help you with one of those things: repaying your student loans. Now that you are coming upon graduation it is time to look into consolidating and repaying your medical school loans. Consolidating your student loans through Medical School Loans can save you thousands of dollars over the life of your loan. Reserving your consolidation with Medical School Loans before you graduate ensures that you will be able to take advantage of our many benefits:

- Lower Interest Rates
- An Additional 1.25% Interest Rate Reduction through our Borrower Benefits
- Flexible Repayments Options
- No Consolidation or Origination Fees
- No Credit Checks
- No Prepayment Penalties
- Deferment and Forbearance Options

If you reserve your consolidation now, you will also be able to take advantage of these additional benefits:

1. You will be able to lock-in the low current interest rate before the federal government changes it on July 1st
2. You do not have to begin payments on your consolidated loan until after your grace period, which is 6 months after graduation for federal medical school student loans.
3. You will be able to focus on graduation instead of your student loans, since your consolidation process will already be started.

To reserve your loan you must have outstanding federal medical school student loans and be within six months of graduation. Our e-signature option makes the application process quick and simple, eliminating all the hassles of a paper application. So remember to reserve your consolidation with Medical School Loans today!